The National Institution, later changed to National Institute, was established on May 15, 1840, by the adoption of a constitution and a declaration of its objects, which were to promote science and the useful arts, and to establish a national museum of natural history, etc. The founding of this society, as Dr. Goode explains, was doubtless to a very great degree due to the stimulating and inspiring effects upon public opinion of the Smithsonian bequest. It acquired extensive collections of its own and for a short time also had custody of...

Reviews

This book is definitely not easy to get going on reading through but extremely exciting to see. I am quite late in start reading this one, but better then never. I am pleased to explain how here is the finest book i actually have read inside my individual daily life and may be he best book for ever.
