Not illustrated. 1868 Excerpt: . . . MRS. GRABEM AND FUZ-BUZ. MRS. GRABEM was a hairy spider who knit cobwebs and caught flies and brought up a small household of nine young spiders. When I first knew this happy family, and learned all the wonderful things they heard and did, their home was as pretty a place as a spider need want. Their web was spun to and fro across the crotch of an old apple-tree, and when they looked down they could see the green grass, and when they looked up they could see the great jolly red apples which must have looked to those young spiders just as the stars look to our own young folks. On one side of their web Mrs. Grabem had knit with great labor a long, dark cave all of cobweb, where the family slept at night, and where they lay trembling while the...
