Not illustrated. 1861 Excerpt: .the circumstance of a pistol, cap, plate, and feather being found near the spot, it is supposed that the robber belongs to the Queen s own Regiment of Dragoons; it is also supposed he had his own horse near the place, as the post-boy s horse was left at a short distance, and a man of the above description passed through the toll-bar at Lane-head. This is the third time the same mail has been robbed within twelve months. (125.) Some days ago a French priest was attacked by a footpad on the Edgeware Road, who, not content with the few shillings he had about him, insisted ou his coat, alleging it was superior to his own; the exchange was no sooner completed than the priest ran, so did the thief, vociferating to him to stop, but in vain, fearing he meant to ill use him. On reaching a public street, the thief gave up the pursuit, and the priest, putting his hand in his pocket, found at once the cause of this renewed attack, discovering he had got 501. (126.) One of the desperate gang of footpads, whose depredations have so long alarmed society at Shooter s Hill, was, on Tuesday evening, secured in a ditch between that place and Welling, after a very narrow escape with his life in stopping a patrol from Bow Street, in a carriage, who twice fired at him with a carbine and horse pistol, and only slightly grazed his...
