Not illustrated. 1903 Excerpt: .time is approaching when History will be attempted on quite other principles; when the Court, the Senate, and Battlefield, receding more and more into the background, the Temple, the Workshop and Social Hearth, will advance more and more into the foreground; and History will not content itself with shaping some answer to that question: How were men taxed and kept quiet then? but will seek to answer this other infinitely wider and higher question: How and what were men then? Not our Government only, or the House wherein our life was led, but the Life itself we led there, will be inquired into. Of which latter it may be found that Government, in any modern sense of the word, is, after all, but a secondary condition: in the mere sense of Taxation and Keeping quiet, a small, almost a pitiful one.-- Meanwhile let us welcome such Boswells,...
